"INDUSTRIAL PEACE."

There is soon to be a call enunciated for a meeting of the industrial barons and their workers, in the interest of what is styled "industrial peace."

The scheme emanates from the federal senate and is fathered by the veteran senator from Virginia, John W. Daniel. It may be well to hasten the assembly in view of the threatening strike of railway men that is to involve forty-two great railway systems of the country, and exercise the new elements of suasion and persuasion in the settlement of that mighty issue, just to measure the effectiveness of the program.

All men are dreamers, and these lovely visions are infinitely creditable to the hearts inspired, but the day of realization is so distant the consummation so hopeless, the impediments so vast and intricate, the selfishness of man so boundless, that the glamour of the thing dies in its very conception. All men yearn for peace, at home, in business life, in society, at the polls, and among the nations. It is a cardinal precept with all good men to live at peace with their fellows, but every such aspiration is wrecked upon the one, superlative barrier, Money, and all that money stands for. If the wisdom of the world shall deem that dreams shall become facts in which all men may glory.

THE LIME BATH.

Bailey, of Texas comes up smiling from his white-washing at the hands of his legislative friends at home. The bright, genial, capable senator from the Lone Star state is preening and primping in his bleached toga, satisfied to the limit with the virtuous garment that has been thrust back upon his shoulders, unmindful of the flimsy, transparent texture of the stuff and the common knowledge of its sham and shame.

Never again will he stand as he stood in his earlier career, stainless, admired of all men for his power and impeccability. Guilty, or not guilty, he has had to go the road of the suspect and the tarnish is upon his name forever. It is the fate of men who dabble with their honor and trust in the hands of people to whom honor is nothing.

It may satisfy the hurrying world and give him a new lease of political life, but "the trail of the serpent is over it all," and the slime is ineradicable. It is far too common a thing in this country, and tends to lower the standard of faith held by the people in leaders, who, remaining scatheless, might make for the power and glory of the nation. The lime-wash dims the lime-light and the hottest flame of public confidence refused to rekindle.

ASTORIA'S NEEDS.

While private enterprise is erecting the new and splendid $100,000 hotel in this city, the public snap of our municipality were well engaged on the erection of the new and important fire station. One is just as essential as the other.

The new policy of Astoria is to do first and talk afterward; and it cannot be applied too soon nor too far in the work at hand. Expedition is the keynote of success and it is time to strike it, loud and clear, and convincing. In order that all may know what we mean and what we are doing. We have chewed the rag of inanition until its last shred dangles dejectedly and reproachfully in view of us all, and we are ashamed of the fragment. Once the habit of doing is acquired it will be found to be quite as simple as bragging and blowing, and protesting what we are going to do, and Astoria has her new name to make while the temper of her energy is at a malable heat. Get in and do some thing; especially those things that have been talked to death and are known to be absolutely next and nearest the public needs. The outside world is watching us, at such intervals of rest as it may have from its own activities and we must make good, or toddle along with our old name for bluster and failure. Build that new engine-house, just for a start.

EDITORIAL SALAD.

It will be interesting to learn what the Empress of China who has started a crusade against deformed feet, thinks of the deformed waists.

The threat to put up the price of clocks ten per cent will certainly stimulate a second-hand movement.

Curious, but if it ever becomes cold enough to trust the ice, it will be too cold for any ice trust.

A curve may be defined in railroad track mathematics as the direction a train does not take when it gets there at high speed.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown away and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by Frank Hart and Leading druggists.

Travel from this city to Portland on Sunday at the low round trip rate of $2.50 is on the increase and many enjoy that day in the metropolis each week. BABY'S FACE IN TERRIBLE STATE

Awful Humor Was Eating Away Face and Ears—Body Mass of Sores—Three Doctors Tried to Help Little Sufferer But She Grew Worse—After Spending Many Dollars On Doctors and Medicine

CUTICURA CURES IN TWO WEEKS AT COST OF 75c.

"I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter. She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away. Her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever. Mrs. George J. Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, Aug. 30, 1905."

Who Makes the Cigars You Smoke

Perhaps you never thought the matter of very much importance—but considered it enough to know the retailer from whom you bought.

But when you are repeatedly stung with poor cigars you cannot always blame the retailer—that isn't the way to avoid unreliable brands. Because that very same retailer probably carries in stock the best brands of cigars made—if you only ask for them.

You ought to KNOW

When you get a poor cigar—and you don't know who made it—how are you going to avoid the other brands of the same manufacture? Don't you see that there is no way to prevent dishonest or incompetent manufacturers from repeatedly imposing on you by offering you unidentified brands of different names?

The NEW

is convincing evidence of the improved quality which the Triangle A guarantees. Every box is extra-wrapped in glassine paper to keep the cigars clean, fresh and in perfect smoking condition.

The American Cigar Company stands back of its brands with a responsible guarantee of their quality. We stamp the boxes of our standard brands with our Triangle A merit mark so you can immediately distinguish them wherever you go.

Then we invite you—even urge you—to go to any store and ask for any one of our Triangle A brands—then judge it strictly on its merits in critical comparison with the cigars of any other manufacture sold you at the same price.

Isn't that a square deal?

Do you know any other cigar manufacturer who stands back of his product in the same unmistakable way and on the same responsible basis, with as plain a guarantee of value?
